

Our Lady speaks to the mother of an aborted child.

Our Lady. My child, why do you weep?

Patricia. I see a mother who has had an abortion weeping at the feet of Our Blessed Mother.

The mother. I have killed my own child – O Mother of God, how could I have done such a terrible thing? Now my heart aches for the child I will never see growing up. My soul cannot find peace until my child knows I am truly sorry. I want to tell my baby I love it and want to claim this little one as my own. I have in my heart a name for my baby. I want to give my baby the name I have chosen – a Saint’s name. If only I could tell my baby of my grief. I am afraid God will never forgive me; I do not deserve to be forgiven but I long for this.

O Mother of God I deserve to be cast away by God, because of this dreadful sin. I come to you, the Mother of God, the Mother of all mothers, I beg of you to take my baby into your care; be its Mother and take my child to heaven. Mother of God, hold my baby in your arms as you held your poor Crucified Son and remember me in my anguish. Whisper to my baby: “Your mother loves you and is deeply sorry that she allowed sin and evil to drive her to harm you. She has given me a name she wishes you to be known by. No longer will you be a little nameless one.”

Our Lady. My daughter, I feel deep sympathy for you in your suffering. See, I am the Mother of the Hidden and Mystical Wounds. I once wept as you do because of the sins of men and the forces of evil took the life of my Innocent Son. I understand your anguish. My daughter, you have sinned gravely and others have sinned against you – all who have aided you in this most serious sin. The forces of evil caused you to break God’s Holy Commandment. My child, were you wilful and selfish or were you driven by fear – or both? Were you lonely and seeking love and happiness, only to find suffering, abandonment and shame?

My child, come to me. Allow me to hold you in my arms and comfort you. This is a most serious matter, but I have come to assist you; you for your part, must follow my Motherly direction and advice.

My daughter, remember you stand before God, look very carefully at your life and actions. Be very honest with yourself and me. Confess with true sorrow your part in this matter, making no excuses for yourself where you know you have been at fault. Be honest also where you have been a victim of circumstances and of the sins of others. Perhaps you were innocent and ignorant – perhaps foolish and wilful; were you lonely or frightened? Confess all to your God. Remember, He looks to save your soul, not punish you with harshness. God loves you and your baby with deep and tender love. You have hurt and wounded not only yourself and your child but God’s tender love towards you. Confess your sins – go to a priest and confess all. Receive My Divine Son’s forgiveness. Forgive those who have sinned against you; forgive and you will be forgiven.

My child, I hear you say; "God will not forgive me." Do you place yourself above God? He died so that you might be forgiven. He died to make you good. Do not wound Him more by refusing to forgive yourself or to allow God to shower His merciful Forgiveness upon you.

The mother. Mother, I can't stop thinking of my child and I long to know I am forgiven. I desire to make amends to God and to my baby. Tell me what else I should do so that one day in heaven, when all sorrow and pain have passed away, I may embrace my child and praise God for His infinite mercy?

Our Lady. My daughter, show God you are truly sorry by true contrition and amendment of life. Your soul will be greatly eased by Confession but confess not only this sin; look very carefully at all your past sins and confess those also before your God.

Give me the name you have chosen for your child. Place your desire for the salvation of the child into my Motherly care. Bring your child before Almighty God. Offer Him your contrition. Unite your motherly desire to God's desire and the desire of the whole Church that all souls attain salvation and the happiness of heaven. Make your offering through the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

Patricia. Speaking after the ceremony of Remembrance for aborted children Our Lady went on to say:

Our Lady. Now, my child, how are going to prove your gratitude to God for the great mercy He has extended towards you?

Begin the amendment of your whole life.

Study the Commandments and the teachings of the Church in order to live by them. Say and live the Act of Contrition daily for the mothers and fathers who have committed this serious offence against God, to draw down God's mercy upon them so as to turn them away from their sins.

Love your child and be at peace, because in the Heart of My Son – Jesus, your child loves you in a unique way. I gather your wounded motherhood into my own wounded Motherhood and bring your sorrow and contrition to the foot of the Cross. Look at my Son, my Child! See His wounds! He is the Innocent Lamb of God crucified in all His Innocence, in order that you may be washed clean of every sin. Only a perfect offering - completely sinless – could make up for every kind of sin that men and women commit. This Innocent Lamb of God, the Lord Jesus Christ, has suffered all for love of you. His Heavenly Father has accepted this perfect Sacrifice. Praise and thank God for your deliverance.

My Motherly Blessing +.
